A photograph of a schoolyard. The ground is covered in bright green artificial grass. Several large, leafy trees are scattered throughout the yard, casting shadows. In the background, there is a white building with a red-tiled roof and a picnic table. To the right, a yellow building with a stone-patterned wall and white shutters is visible. The sky is clear and blue.

A stone archway with a wooden railing on top frames a view of a garden path. The path is paved with grey asphalt and has yellow and red markings. In the distance, a wooden bench sits on a grassy area. To the right, there are two green-framed information boards and a wooden trash can. Pink hydrangea flowers are in the foreground on the right. The background is filled with lush green trees and foliage.
